Lokobe and local boat course

The Lokobe natural reserve is the last primitive forest of Nosy Be's region. Visit this incredible reserve with friends or family and discover its outstanding fauna and flora

LOKOBE :An incredible natural site

Lokobe is Nosy Be's last protected primitive forest. It shelters many species of endemic medicinal plants, thousand-year-old trees, that delight the region's scientists. Guide yourself inside the lands, where you will find a preserved universe in which lemurs (Macaco and Lépilémur), reptiles, chameleons, insects and tropical birds live. The reserve's 740 hectares regroup the vast majority of Nosy Be's endemic vegetation. However, we strongly advise you to be accompanied by a guide.

Lokobe is a zoological and botanical park which counts several species of flowers and rare plants. It is also a remarkable natural reserve. You can see nocturnal and diurnal lemurs which are found especially near Ambanoro, Ambalafary and Ampasindava. We also count about 17 species of endemic birds such as the owl of Madagascar or the Malagasy kingfisher. Besides a faunistic and floristic diversity, it is a real heaven on Earth which promises an unforgettable journey where you will witness amazing landscapes.

Tourist attractions : Park's fauna and flora wealth : canarium, medicinal plants, pandanus, birds, lemurs, chameleons, lizards, frogs, coral fishes, coral reefs,... Along with beaches and the sea
